

Two Good Friends

There are two good friends in the zoo. One is Sidney, a cute and fuzzy koala joey. The other one is Bei Bei, a soft and cuddly panda cub. Even though they come from different places, they have many things in common. Their moms take good care of both of them. They are both plant eaters. Sidney eats eucalyptus leaves, and Bei Bei eats bamboo leaves. Their favorite thing to do is climb on trees. They both sleep a lot every day. Bei Bei can sleep up to 16 hours a day, while Sidney can sleep up to 22 hours! When they are awake, all they do is eat and play. I would like to have them at home to hug them and pet them.
